

Be the First to Know!

Stanley-Boyd is set up with Remind.

Remind is a free, safe, easy-to-use communication tool that helps schools connect instantly with students and parents. With Remind, we are able to send text messages without ever having to know your phone number (or even sharing our personal phone numbers). Best of all, there is no cost to use Remind. (Standard text messaging rates apply to those receiving messages, based off each individual's messaging plan and cell phone carrier, but there are no added costs). Some examples of texts you would receive through Remind—School closings / delays, upcoming events, etc. If you are interested in receiving text messages from the school district, simply follow the directions below.
